

Note 18

Land Use, Nature &

Thermodynamics

June 2021

| Time   |   |   | Natural System | Land Use Examples           |  | Working withNature  | Substituting forNature | Environmental Stress |        |          |
|--------|---|---|----------------|-----------------------------|--|---|----------------------------|-----------------------------|--------|----------|
|        |   |   |                |                             |  |   |                            | High                        | Medium | Low/Zero |
| c.1000 |   | Anglo Saxons, Normans,Monastic Orders, GreatCathedrals, Enclosures, EarlyAgricultural Scientists,Aristocratic Landownersbreeding livestock. | Equilbrium     | True Wilderness             | The Pre-1900's Managed Landscape:  | 1   |                            |                             |        |          |
| 1800's | ļ |   |                | Forestry                    | an incremental change over 1000  |   |                            |                             |        | 1        |
|        |   |   |                | Agriculture                 | years, was in a stable, dynamic  |   |                            |                             |        | 1        |
|        |   |   |                | Game Shooting               | equilibrium.   |   |                            |                             |        |          |
| 1900's |   | A Focus on Volume &Industrial Methods   | Non-Equilbrium | ManagedWilderness       | The Post-1939 Managed Landscape:fast-paced / forced changes: output at   |   |                            |                             |        |          |
|        |   |   |                | Forestry                    | all costs.   |   |                            | 1                           |        |          |
|        |   |   |                | Agriculture                 | Artificial fertilisers may improve yieldsin the short term but increasingamounts will be needed as time moves  |   | 1                          |                             |        |          |
|        |   |   |                | Game Shooting               | on to maintain the yields. The ultimatedestination of this mechanism will bemonocultures and eventual sterility.   |   |                            |                             |        |          |
| 2000's |   | Reclamation by Nature   | Reversal       | De-Stocking orRewilding | Re-wilding will be random  | A managed landscimproved or adultalocal confines) butreturned to its orig |                            | 1                           |        |          |
|        |   | The Future for the ManagedLandscape   | MSO            | All                         | The inevitable decrease in farm sectoroutputs will be offset by a new focuson business assets: 1. TreatingNatural Capital as a marketableproduct & 2. High-quality brandedproduce with a greater degree ofadded-value on the farmVariable costs in farming comprisetwo different and sequentialcomponents: Productive variablecosts (PVCs) where activities workwith Nature and corrective variablecosts (CVCs) where activitiessubstitute for Nature . The PVCs endat the point at which the naturalfertility/grass runs out and the CVCsbegin at this point as artificial feed-stocks, chemicals and fertilisers areadopted. This is the point of MSO( Maximum Sustainable Output ). | 1   |                            |                             |        |          |

Land Use, Nature & Thermodynamics

|        | Time    |                    | Natural System  | Land Use    | Examples  | Working withNature   | orking with Substituting forNature Nature Environmental Stress   |   | Stress | Laws of Thermodynamics |          |   |   |
|--------|---------|--------------------|---|-------------|---|--|--|---|--------|------------------------|----------|---|---|
| Ī      |         |                    |   |             |   |  |  |   | High   | Medium                 | Low/Zero | No.   | Law   |
|        | c.1000  | Anglo Monas        | Anglo Saxons, Normans,Monastic Orders, GreatCathedrals, Enclosures, EarlyAgricultural Scientists,Aristocratic Landowners(breeding livestock). | Equilbrium  | True Wilderness   | The Pre-1900's Managed Landscape:  | 1  |   |        |                        | 1        | Oth   |   |
|        |         | Cathed             |   |             | Forestry  | an incremental change over 1000  |  |   |        |                        |          |   | When two natural systems come into contact,   |
|        |         | AgriculAristoc |   |             | Agriculture   | years, was in a stable, dynamic  |  |   |        |                        |          |   | other   |
|        | 1800's  | (breedi            |   |             | Game Shooting   | -cquiiorium  |  |   |        |                        |          |   |   |
|        |         |                    |   |             |   |  |  |   |        |                        |          |   |   |
|        |         |                    | A.E V. I 6  |             | ManagedWilderness   | The Post-1939 Managed Landscape:   |  |   |        |                        |          | 1st   | Natural systems only change when work isput into it: energy must be expended                        |
|        |         | A Eco              |   |             | Forestry  | fast-paced / forced changes: output at all costs.  |  |   |        |                        |          |   |   |
| 1900's | Industr | Industrial Methods | Non-Equilbrium  | Agriculture | Artificial fertilisers may improve yieldsin the short term but increasingamounts will be needed as time moves |  | 1  | 1 |        |                        | and      | When natural systems are supplied with newenergy: the system cannot deliver more than |   |
|        |         |                    | ,   |             | Game Shooting   | on to maintain the yields. The ultimatedestination of this mechanism will bemonocultures and eventual sterility.   |  |   |        |                        |          | 2110  | move from one state to another irrecoverableenergy is lost in the process.                          |
|        |         |                    |   |             |   | 1  | A managed lands  |   |        |                        |          |   |   |
|        |         | Reclan             | nation by Nature  | Reversal    | De-Stocking orRewilding   | Re-wilding will be random  | improved or adulterated (within itslocal confines) but it cannot bereturned to its original state. |   |        | 1                      |          | 3rd   | Reversing natural systems (or leaving well-alone) will not create a pathway to an originalpoint |
|        |         |                    |   |             |   | 1  |  | 2 |        |                        |          |   |   |
|        | 2000's  | The FuLandsc   | uture for the Managedcape   | MSO         | All   | The inevitable decrease in farm sectoroutputs will be offset by a new focuson business assets: 1. TreatingNatural Capital as a marketableproduct & 2. High-quality brandedproduce with a greater degree ofadded-value on the farmVariable costs in farming comprisetwo different and sequentialcomponents: Productive variablecosts (PVCs) where activities workwith Nature and corrective variablecosts (CVCs) where activitiessubstitute for Nature . The PVCs endat the point at which the naturalfertility/grass runs out and the CVCsbegin at this point as artificial feed-stocks, chemicals and fertilisers areadopted. This is the point of MSO( Maximum Sustainable Output ). | 1  |   |        |                        |          |   | 0th, 1st, 2nd & 3rd   |